What We Do

Attic believes in the power of stories and creativity. That telling your own story or bearing witness to another's enhances people's lives in big and small ways.

We do this in a number of ways:

Many Stages - our artistic programme of live performances and theatre productions

Many Moons - work with older people at risk of isolation

Many Voices - work with ESOL and refugee and asylum seeking young people

Many Minds - work with young people from disadvantaged backgrounds

We regularly work with around 200 people each week ranging from 7 years - 90 years old!

We have staged over 30 productions including world premieres and national tours as well as seasons of theatre, play fests and community performances.

We run 12 participatory projects each year and present a live theatre production every year, which always performs in Merton.

We are YOUR Theatre Company and we fly the flag for Merton wherever we go.
